🇫🇷 🇫🇷 Meanwhile in Paris, France

Attempted kidnapping of Woman with her 2yo child morning on the streets of Paris - the target is allegedly the daughter of a crypto CEO.

Europe is wild.

the victim told police he came to New York from Italy on 6 May, and that upon arriving at the suspect's house, Mr Woeltz took his passport and allegedly held him captive until he escaped on Friday morning.

According to a criminal complaint obtained by ABC News, the victim told police that Mr Woeltz and another person beat him and hanged him off a ledge when he refused to provide his bitcoin password.

Mr Woeltz is a crypto investor from Kentucky and has been renting the SoHo home for between $30,000 (£22,000) and $40,000 per month, according to CBS News.

I'm sharing the full security footage from the robbery. I wish I didn't have to prove that the worst night of my life was real. Too many people still think I made it up - I really wish it had been fake, or a prank. It wasn't. I still have nightmares. I was terrified, even though I was going to die that night, but I survived. Now I'm trying to heal and move forward.

Začátek byl už celkem ohraný. Oběť telefonicky kontaktoval muž, jenž se představil jako policista s tím, že někdo žádá jeho jménem v Pardubicích o úvěr. Přes komunikační aplikaci se pak muži ozval údajný pracovník České národní banky s návodem, jak zabránit onomu podvodnému úvěru.

Twitter200M

In early 2023, over 200M records scraped from Twitter appeared on a popular hacker forum. The data was obtained sometime in 2021 by abusing an API that enabled email addresses to be resolved to Twitter profiles. The subsequent results were then composed into a corpus of data containing email addresses alongside public Twitter profile information including names, usernames and follower counts.

Compromised data:

- Email addresses
- Names
- Social media profiles
- Usernames

Citibank

In November 2020, a collection of more than 23,000 already breached credentials from All Cityday were made available for download on several hacker forums. The data consisted of 220M unique email address alongside password pairs, often represented as both password hashes and the cracked, plain text versions. Independent verification of the data established it contains many legitimate, previously undisclosed breaches. The data was provided to HackerOne by Citibank.com.

Compromised data:

- Email addresses
- Passwords

Adobe

In October 2013, 153 million Adobe accounts were breached with each containing an internal ID, username, email, encrypted password and a password hint in plain text. The password cryptography was poorly done and many were quickly resolved back to plain text. The unencrypted hints also disclosed much about the passwords adding further to the risk that hundreds of millions of Adobe customers already faced.

Compromised data:

- Email addresses
- Password hints
- Passwords
- Usernames

Last.fm

In March 2012, the music website Last.fm was hacked and 43 million user accounts were exposed. While not in line of an incident back in 2012, the scale of the hack was not known until the data was released publicly in September 2016. The breach included 37 million unique email addresses, usernames and passwords stored as unhashed MD5 hashes.

Compromised data:

- Email addresses
- Passwords
- Username
- Website activity
